

What is Permafund?

Permafund is the tax deductible donation arm of Permaculture International Ltd. The donations given to the Permafund are used to promote Permaculture projects to assist with resilience in the developing world, in places of extreme need and in projects promoting permaculture.

We currently have links with and have Australians and International Permaculturalists working on projects in many areas of the world, and in 2009 the IPC 9 will be occurring in Africa, so there are many projects we can support and direct funds to, to enable the permaculture work to develop or continue.

The Permafund Committee guides the distribution of funds to ensure that they comply with the objectives of permaculture. Each project must submit a project brief which is scrutinized to validate information for the funds to be accessed. The Board then approves the allocation.

Previous grants have been used in the following ways.

- Supporting the Greenhand Field School in Aceh to promote training and capacity building, and developing two permaculture demonstration sites to assist with:
 - Nurseries
 - Home garden models
 - Waste water treatments
 - Solid and liquid compost making
- Contributing to the work of Permatil to assisting the publication of a permaculture manual for East Timor
- Assisting to support two delegates from India and Nepal to attend the IPC 8 in Brazil, and to participate and share information on their return home
- Assisting 12 grass roots farmers to attend a permaculture design course in Nepal which was delivered by local permaculturalists.
